

Flush Channel with Diffuser

The Node Flush Channel is designed to be mounted flush with the ceiling plane. The Flush Channel locates all Node devices as part of a coordinated solution for lighting and other building services, including air distribution and return. The Node Flush Channel can be provided in a wide variety of finishes to suit any ceiling design.

Product Features

- Easy installation
- Compatible with a wide range of available Node devices
- Removable face for device accessibility
- Factory coordinated device locations
- Compatible with Flush Channel Plenum for discreet air supply
- Mounting compatibility with Weave Radiant Textile Panels and other popular ceiling finishes
- Extruded trough with alignment features for adjacent channel sections

Specifications

Dimensions

- Exposed Width - 5.88in./149mm
- Extrusion Face Width - 4.72in./120mm
- Overall Height - 4.33in./110mm
- Maximum Length per Section - 118.11in./3000mm

Configurations

- Straight Length
- End Condition
- 90 Degree Perpendicular Non-Mitered Junctions

Finish

- Powder coat black
- Powder coat white
- Anodized black
- Anodized clear
- Anodized champagne
- Anodized light bronze
- Anodized medium bronze
- Anodized dark bronze